A ROAD TRIP IN LANGUEDOC

DO • EAT • INSPIRATION • SHOP • STAY

A vintage car, a gorgeous driver and weekend of fun. What more could you want for a weekend away?

SEIGNEURIE DE PEYRAT

This stunning estate makes for the most wonderful day out. We went on the tour of vineyard and then enjoyed a picnic lunch, alongside wine tasting in the sun-flecked courtyard. It was a french summer's dream. We also bought some presents for loved ones from their shop, including a big magnum of their pretty rose.

EAT. STAY

Château de la Redorte & Spa, Rue de la Pompe Neuve, La Redorte, France

CHATEAU DE LA REDORTE

This restored Chateau has recently been opened as a hotel. The building itself is lovely, with sweeping lavender plants and bouncy olive trees outside. The rooms have been decorated in a simple modern french way. We found the local specialities on the dinner menu were delicious and the staff all friendly and helpful. They were able to suggest lots of local activities and the location is perfect to drive from. There are also rooms that open onto the pool which would be perfect for a family, but we stayed in the main building.
