

MAS TERRA INCOGNITA, SOUTH OF FRANCE

The well-preserved 135,000sqm Mediterranean locale surrounding Mas Terra Incognita offers a panoramic overview of vineyards and olive plantations. Restored by acclaimed architect Hughes Bosc from Saint Remy de Provence, the property is located south of France in Boujan-sur-Libron.

Five international airports are within 20- to 60-minute journey. Arts and culture buffs can visit the nearby towns l'Abbaye de Fontfroide and l'Abbaye de Valmagne to view historical monuments and attend an organised series of music festivals.

Facilities in this 700sqm vineyard estate went through an overhaul, making it ideal as a full time residence or occasional retreat. Features of the landscape are visible from the five bedrooms, and beyond this estate is an apartment of 65sqm for guests.

The living room is adequately lit with ample navigation space for groups. The terrace leads to an infinity pool (15 m x 5 m) surrounded by a Jacuzzi, pool house, outdoor kitchen BBQ. Sports enthusiasts can utilise the facilities which include golf courses, fishing, sailing and riding.
